Growers Favor Market Plan

Sacramento Hearing Shows Endorsement For Advertising

SACRAMENTO—Growers and shippers of California fresh Bartlett pears are unanimous in their support of a proposed marketing order for their industry.

This was the conclusion reached yesterday at a hearing in which prominent pear growers and shippers testified before Dr. Theodore Macklin, chief of the state division of markets.

The department of agriculture took the hearing's results under advisement and indicated action will be taken "as soon as possible."

The proposed marketing order would restrict the size of pears in intra-state commerce for an advertising fund of $75,000 the first year.

Witnesses who testified for growers were J. A. Irving, Placerville; Philip Bancroft, Concord; David J. Elliott, Courtland; for shippers, Wendell Henderson, Kelseyville; W. A. Lambert, Sacramento, and Joseph Guido, sales manager of Pacific Fruit Exchange, R. W. Gray, manager of the California Tree Fruit agreement, also testified.

New Postoffice Plan "Alive"

Placerville Listed With Cities Due To Get Buildings

Placerville's plea for a new postoffice is very much alive in Washington. This is according to a report to Postmaster Scherer by City Attorney Thomas Maul, who returned last week from Washington.

Mr. Maul was advised in Washington that Placerville is on the list of communities next to get appropriations for postoffices, if, as and when the appropriations are made.

Whether the new structure may be a postoffice or a building housing various federal offices was not learned and Mr. Maul pointed out that as far as he was able to learn, there was no assurance of immediate action on the proposal.

Royal Arch Degree Is Conferred

At a meeting of St. James Chapter No. 16, R. A. M., Saturday night, at which the chapter was joined by officers and members of San Francisco Chapter No. 3, R. A. M., the Royal Arch degree was conferred upon Victor J. Leonard and Harry L. Jasper.

The meeting followed a 6:30 o'clock supper at the Masonic temple.

JOSHING THE PRESIDENT—That widely known gesture when President Roosevelt showed the size of the fish he caught on his recent Gulf of Mexico cruise was sculptured into this caricature by Jack Sparling, 22, cartoonist on the New Orleans Item-Tribune. Sparling presented his creation to the President.

ROD AND GUN CLUB DESERVES 500 ACTIVE MEMBERS

Trade Attracted To Community By Fish Planting Commends Membership In Body To Business Men As Well As Sportsmen

By JOHN A. WINKELMAN

Secretary, El Dorado Rod & Gun Club

Having been elected secretary of the Rod and Gun Club last spring, it is up to me to see that we get as many members as possible. Some of our members right now are out with membership books to sign up who they can.

However, this is rather slow work, hence this open appeal to reason, businessmen and fishermen alike.

Even though our El Dorado Rod and Gun Club is primarily a club for fishermen, it should be plain to all the businessmen around town that they should help out, for selfish reasons, if nothing else. There is nothing brings in people quicker than the fact that there are plenty trout and that people are catching them. The flow of people

Moley Scores Court Plan

"Threat To Form Of Government," Speaker Avers

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UP)—Raymond Moley, national political figure, and editor of "News-Week," attacked President Roosevelt's judiciary reform proposal here last night with a warning, "there is something worse than a government of men: It is a government by a man."

Speaking before 350 persons in the Hotel Weward Ho, Moley assailed the President's plan as "a threat to the republican form of government."

He lauded Democratic leaders who "defied the thunders of party ex-communication" in opposing the plan, declaring, "the courage that can face defeat of life . . . That is victory."

The President's plan, he said, "is like the fellow said—'He's got nine things he doesn't want, so he wants six more.'"

Dinner Compliments Grand Officer

A. W. Katzenstein, grand governor general of the Past Presidents' Association of the Native Sons of the Golden West, was host at his home in Sacramento Saturday evening at a dinner complimenting Henry S Lyon, grand third vice-president of the order. Covers were laid for 14. It was a "stag" affair.

"We just never been tempted to settle down," Swift says. "In fact, if I ever do decide to make the leap, I'll get married on the road. But she's going to have to have brains if she's going to travel and keep pace with me."

Free Barbecue At Picnic

Excellent Roads To Fairplay For Sunday Event

There is no scheduled celebration of July 4th in Placerville, but the county will not be lacking in remembrance of the day, for that is the time of the annual picnic and free barbecue of Sierra Nevada Post No. 2680, V. F. W.

This year's fourth annual event will be held on Sunday at the Fairplay-Aukum hall and members of the post report that a record attendance is in prospect since roads to the hall are in excellent condition.

The picnic will be on Sunday, July 4, and there will be dancing afternoon and evening, with Red's Rhythm Rascals supplying the tunes.

U. S. Meyers, Charles H. MacLaughlin and Warren Benson are in charge of general arrangements for the day and the principal speaker at the exercises will be George Schleimeyer, state master of the Grange.

A day-long program of sports, games and races, coupled with exercises and the afternoon and evening dancing and the big free barbecue promises nothing but success for this fourth annual picnic and patriotic program.

Members of the post invite their friends and the public generally to come and share the day with them.

Sciots Camp To Open Saturday

3-Day Program Will Continue Through Monday Afternoon

FACTALIMENTO, Sacramento, Calif.—No. 3, Ancient Egyptian Order of Sciots will open its 37-acre summer camp this week-end. The camp, largest of its kind in California, is 41 miles above Placerville. It has been in operation 14 years.

More than 300 persons will attend the three-day festivities beginning Saturday. At no other time of the year is the camp open to the public.

Summit Center To Meet Thursday

Summit Farm Center will hold its regular meeting on Thursday evening, July 1, at the Summit school.

According to word received at the Farm Advisor's office, the program for the evening will include further discussion on the question of electrification in the district.

The Farm Advisor will attend and will show several reels of educational and entertaining motion pictures.

Check Suspect Is Bound Over

W. H. Wright, 57, of Shingle, charged with issuing checks without funds, was held to answer to the Superior Court at a preliminary hearing on Tuesday before Justice of the Peace T. F. Lewis.

Wright, said to have served a prison term at San Quentin, is reported to be wanted in Marysville on check charges also.

Main Street Gutters Are Being Improved

The gutters on either side of Main street in the business section are being improved this week by a crew under the direction of City Marshall James P. Morton.

Pre-mix is being used to fill the numerous "pot holes" which have developed and which, it is reported, it is found difficult to control owing to apparent sub-surface drainage.

Mr. Morton states that the improvement project will include the repair of breaks in the paving in the street as well.

Wade Erb and son, Leo, of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Lavelle Jameson and son, Gordon of Syracuse, New York, are here for a few days visit with Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Vaughn. Mrs. Jameson is Mrs. Vaughn's sister.

They're Divorced, It Is Announced

NEW YORK (UP)—This item appeared today in the "Public Notices" column of The New York Times:

"I, Chin-Chen Wang, hereby announce my divorce from Wang-Chen Chihlin, by mutual consent, according to Chinese laws on June 3, 1937."

RELIEF BILL IS SIGNED

Influence On PWA Applications Not Definitely Known

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Roosevelt has signed the $1,500,000,000 relief appropriation bill, the White House announced today.

Before retiring last night, Mr. Roosevelt also affixed his signature to the following measures:

The $630,000,000 agriculture department appropriation bill, largest in history.

The railroad retirement tax bill, establishing a tax on rail companies and their employees to finance pension for retired rail workers.

The nuisance tax extension bill, continuing for two years $650,000,000 in miscellaneous levies including a 3-cent postage rate.

City Attorney Thomas Maul, when advised by The Republican Wednesday of the contents of the above report, said the news is "important to Placerville" if we knew the details of the appropriation, included in a Senate Maul said he is under the impression that the bill carries a large PWA appropriation, included in a Senate amendment, and that if this amendment survived the conference, "we may get something out of it."

Grand Parlor Ends At San Jose

Delegates from Marguerite Parlor No. 12, N. D. G. W., to the annual Grand Parlor of the order, held this year at San Jose, returned over the week-end and report an interesting meeting and an excellent entertainment program.

Delegates included Mrs. Nora Gray, Mrs. Pearl Tinney, Miss Ruth Lyon and Mrs. Maude Panning, the latter taking the place of Mrs. Harriet Amstalden, who was indisposed and unable to take her place as a delegate.

The next Grand Parlor will be at Santa Barbara.

Mrs. Percy Lawyer of Sacramento, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James McGraw, for a few days.

Supplemental Feeding Helps Correct Range Deficiency

By IVAN W. LILLEY
Farm Advisor

Livestock, both sheep and cattle, require a reasonably well balanced feed if they are to maintain health and gain in weight. A major item of a balanced feed is the mineral content. This includes primarily phosphorus, calcium and salt. The bulk of livestock raised in El Dorado County is grazed at least part of the season on dry range.

After the grass on ranges has become thoroughly mature and dry, rains tend to leach out the minerals and digestible protein. In many seasons where rain has occurred after the feed has dried, cattle and sheep will lose weight while feeding in fields with plenty of dry grass. This loss of weight is caused primarily because of the lack of minerals and protein. It is recommended that steamed bone meal be placed in troughs where cattle and sheep congregate in order to supply the calcium and phosphorus often lacking in dry feed. The protein can be supplied by feeding a small amount of concentrates such as cotton seed meal, soy bean meal, cocomanut meal, etc. In many cases stock will refuse to eat steamed bone meal unless it is mixed with coarse ground salt at the rate of one-half salt and one-half bone meal. As the stock commences to eat this mineral mixture the salt can gradually be eliminated until straight bone meal is fed in one trough and salt in another.

In addition to being deficient in minerals, dry pasture is deficient in vitamin A. Cattle and sheep are able to store a reserve of vitamin A in the liver and other organs but where they are fed too long a time on feeds deficient in vitamin A, this storage is used up and stock will become in poor condition and often have difficulties at calving and lambing time. This was the case on many farms this past winter.

The vitamin A supply for the animal can be maintained by feeding a regular quantity of good green alfalfa hay or green pasture. On ranges where there is a good growth of burr clover or other legume there is less apt to be a deficiency of protein.

On most ranges this has been a poor year for burr clover. It would seem good judgment to watch the condition of the stock and if unusual losses in weight occur, the cause of this loss should be determined and corrected.

The amount of minerals consumed by animals and the cost of these minerals is relatively low in proportion to the benefits derived where stock are in need of a mineral supplement.

The Farm Advisor will be glad to discuss the supplementing of range feeds with any stock man interested.

$3,500 Reward For Fiend

Homes Guarded As Victim's Sister Reports New Visit

INGLEWOOD (UP)—Police today guarded 11-year-old Olive Everett, sister of two of three little girls ravished and slain, after a man had appeared at her home and attempted to lure her to Centinela Park.

From the park her sisters, Melba, 9, and Madeline, 7, and their playmate, Jeanette Stephens, 8, were enticed to Baldwin Hills Saturday by a mysterious "Eddie, the sailor."

Both the Everett and Stephens homes were guarded by police after Olive Everett said a man approached her, asked her to go to Centinela Park and "look under a tree."

Investigators sought a description of the man.

"I believe that the death of my two daughters and little Jeanette is all revenge on the part of someone who really wanted my older daughter," Everett told police.

Olive told of repeated attempts in the last year by the same "Eddie, the sailor," to get her to go riding and to go see his "wife and baby." She repeatedly refused.

Throughout Southern California more than a score of suspects have been rounded up, questioned and released.

Father Is Given 6-Year Term In Wendel Case

NEWARK, N. J. (UP)—Ellis H. Parker, Sr., found guilty last week with his son, Ellis, Jr., of conspiracy to kidnap Paul H. Wendel, was sentenced today to serve six years in a federal penitentiary. His son was sentenced to three years.

Sentence on the 65-year-old chief of Burlington County detectives and his 26-year-old son, was imposed by Federal Judge William Clark. They were convicted last Wednesday by a jury of eight women and four men of conspiracy to violate the Lindbergh kidnapping law. Under the law sentence could have ranged from a suspended sentence to life imprisonment.

Ten minutes after sentence was imposed, the defense filed with Judge Clark formal notice of appeal to the Federal Circuit Court of Appeals in Philadelphia.

Nation-Wide Road Survey

Federal Bureau To Check Use Of All Highways In U. S.

For the first time a complete survey is now being made of every mile of highway in the United States and the use to which it is put, says the National Automobile Club. The survey is being conducted by a special planning service of the Federal Bureau of Public Roads with which the highway departments of 40 states are co-operating.

A main object of the survey is to give the farmers of the entire country better farm-to-market roads. Up until recently federal money for roads, matched by the states, has been used to improve primary highways which are direct routes between the more important towns and cities. Now attention is being largely concentrated on secondary roads, of which there are 2,700,000 miles unimproved or poorly improved.

Congress has authorized expenditure of $25,000,000 during 1938 and again in 1939 on these feeder roads. The survey will determine which will feed the most traffic into the main roads and the railways. It is hoped by Secretary of Agriculture Wallace that the planners will be able to indicate several thousand miles of the very poorest roads which should be abandoned altogether.

"The measuring of service is a new type of engineering," he said. "It will be interesting several years hence to report the relationship between the service furnished by our roads and the preservation and utilization of our natural and human resources."

BAND IS FAMILY

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (P)—The Junior League band of Cambridge Post of the American Legion is a family affair. The musicians are Daddy Leslie Gretter and Ralph, 17, Robert, 16, Worth, 15, Fay, 13, and Alma, 12.

When the radio-famous band of Merle Carlson plays at Motor City next Saturday and Sunday evening, July 3 and 4, local dance followers will have an opportunity to hear a musical organization that has rapidly climbed the heights of public favor within the past two years.

Carlson's band has been engaged in three major bookings during the past 24 months at the Cafe de Paree in Los Angeles, the Hotel Olympic at Seattle; the Tavern at Reno, Nevada, Palace Hotel, San Francisco and at Casino Gardens, Ocean Park, where they recently closed a very successful engagement. During these five engagements, the combination has played 750 hours over the air, mostly on the western chain of the Columbia network and on the world-wide broadcast in which the Carlson band was one of the favored three selected west of the Mississippi to enjoy this privilege.

The public and radio popularity of this organization is well attested by the fan mail received, which averages 300 letters each week.

The Merle Carlson organization will appear at Motor City two nights and are enroute to a new engagement.

AUSTRALIAN WHEAT

MELBOURNE (P)—An unexpected increase in the wheat harvest will give Australia a total yield of nearly 150,000,000 bushels this year, or 7,000,000 bushels more than earlier estimates. The crop will be worth nearly $200,000,000 to the Commonwealth.

IS CLEAR OF SNOW

YOSEMITE NATIONAL PARK—The Tioga Pass road across the Sierra Nevada mountain range in Yosemite National Park is now cleared of snow and open to travel according to announcement of Acting Superintendent Lawrence C. Merriam.

This scenic route is still a narrow, winding, dirt, mountain road for 35 miles between Aspen Valley Ranger Station and Cathedral Creek, where a 12-mile stretch of modern highway to Tioga Pass is being surfaced this season.

Due to high elevation and extremely short working season, the progress on reconstruction of the Tioga road has naturally been rather slow. The entire route has been relocated and will be converted into a high-gear highway even more scenic than the old road.

The new high-gear Oak Flat road from Yosemite Valley to Crane Flat and the new section of Tioga road from Crane Flat to a point near White Wolf are scheduled for opening in 1939. The distance between Crane Flat and Whitewolf on the old Tioga road will be shortened by about 13 miles and driving time reduced by half an hour when the new section of the Tioga road is completed. Two of the three tunnels on the new Oak Flat road near Cascade Falls are practically complete and the third and longest is well under way.

In the meantime the old surfaced, but steep, Oak Flat road will be used, with the usual control operated for four miles between Gentry on the rim, and El Capitan Ranger Station on the floor of Yosemite Valley. Down travel leaves Gentry on the odd hours, and up travel leaves Yosemite Valley on the even hours. The present Tioga and Oak Flat roads are not recommended for travel by house trailers.

Club Deserves 500 Members

back and forth stimulates travel and business, probably not direct to some but certainly indirectly to all.

Fishermen, as a rule, spend money lavishly when away, for all kinds of purposes. As I consider this statement I have to admit that a good many forget to come through with their $1.00 membership fee, which is very sad, indeed.

Our club should have 500 members while at the present time we have about 100. However, we are trying to get them all in and, by the end of the year, we should have 250 anyway.

In the past, I remember, several businessmen around town gave as high as $10.00 to the club. This amount however, is excessive, in my opinion. All we want is members at the rate of $1.00 per year. Of course, if one can afford it and wants to give his money away, it always will be cheerfully received.

We spend a lot of our time planting fish, which is all donated and I think it unfair for the average person, whether he is a fisherman or a business man, to expect us to spend still more trying to get him to join by seeing him personally.

I sincerely believe that everyone that believes in belonging to the club should buy his membership willingly and not expect us to come around and hold him up. Of course we will try and do it anyway, but a lot of time and effort it could be saved if everybody just made up his mind to join right now and be done with it.

And if any fisherman that does not belong reads this, it goes for him also. We certainly want all fishermen to belong and they also have a selfish reason for joining, although considerably different from the business man. They actually want more fish and the more members we have the more we can do, the better distribution we can make with what we have to plant.

No doubt there are a lot of places in the county that should be stocked which haven't been, either through inability or through ignorance. If it is ignorance, those that know about it should join and discuss the proposition as they see it with those in charge.

I am sure we officers of the club get criticised more or less for not doing this or doing that, or not doing right what we are doing but it must not be overlooked that we are doing the best we see things and are always open to suggestions and corrections from interested parties.

So, fishermen and business men alike, please join the El Dorado Rod and Gun Club, it costs but $1.00 per year. Some have suggested that we call the club the "Ananias" Club and, maybe, when we get enough lars in the club, the name will be changed to that.

There is no telling how long the I. B. U. boys will retain Schmeling as champion. They are as changeable as a leopard's spots aren't. During the James Braddock regime, the I. B. U. would have no part of the Irishman and considered George Godfrey champion of the world.

June 28-10 daily.

ly tapped on his skull and bones by a member of I. B. U. and pronounced heavyweight champion of the world.

Godfrey was forced to put down his tray of food and defend his title against Pierre Charles, a venerable Belgian who, until named foremost challenger by I. B. U., was quietly enjoying middle age. Much against their respective wills George and Pierre were thrown in the battle pit, all for the glory of old I. B. U. As I remember it, George finally won with a sinking low to Pierre's fourth chin in the fourth round, and thereby retained his heavyweight title. Being no sucker, George also retained his job as handyman in the Paris restaurant, where the pork chops went under another name but were pork chops just the same.

Now the I. B. U. has displaced George with Schmeling. What excuse the frivolous Frenchman made to George, I don't know, because he never has been beaten. Immediately after honoring Schmeling the I. B. U. boys poured another Pernor and named Tommy Farr, British champion, as the only possible contender for the world's heavyweight title.

I admit that I have no right to challenge the judgment of such an august and muddle-headed body as the I. B. U., but when they are naming challengers I don't think it should overlook an unknown Negro we have hidden away in this country, named Joe Louis. You and the I. B. U. may never have heard of him, but I personally have seen him fight and he is hell on wheels. He has fought a few private fights under the secretive promotion of Mike Jacobs and I believe he is ready for the big time.

I have also seen Farr fight. When I was in London last fall trying to straighten out the Duke's affairs, I took a look at Farr's dukes. They did not have the bar sinister. In fact, there was nothing sinister about them. If Louis couldn't belt Farr out in three heats, as we say in Mayfair, then I am an Armadillo sewing basket with cerise lining.

However, the I. B. U. may be right. Maybe Schmeling is the champion. Maybe Farr is the leading contender. Maybe I am an Armadillo basket. But don't laugh so heartedly, my friends. Maybe you will be the next heavyweight champion or contender.

The I. B. U. will get you if you don't watch out!

$3,500 Reward For Fiend

Previously $1,000 had been offered by a newspaper.

WPA crossing guards were questioned regarding the license number of the battered Ford roadster in which the three girls were driven to the hills, ravished and strangled.

Nine-year-old Lillian Popp furnished the clue on which authorities were working. She apparently saw Melba and Madeline Everett and Jeanette Stephens riding away to their deaths Saturday in the box body of the car driven by a man she knew as "Eddie the sailor."

Refusing to let "Eddie" take himself and a small cousin along, the Popp girl ran to a WPA worker guarding a nearby crossing and asked him to take down the Ford's license number.

Monday morning the car and its driver reappeared, a few hours before the violated bodies of the girls were found in the Baldwin Hills, ropes drawn tightly about their necks. She again asked the crossing guard to obtain the number.

Police called in two guards, W. P. Grace and George Rogers. Neither could recall such an incident. Authorities ordered questioning of all other WPA workers assigned to guard street crossings near the Centinella Park playground where the girls disappeared.

The Popp girl was one of three persons who told of seeing the three girls in company of a man they said resembled "Eddie the sailor," a frequenter of the park, shortly before they vanished. Lillian and her year-old cousin saw the man and the girls walking toward the car.

"Eddie asked us to go rabbit hunting, too," she told Deputy Sheriff Ray Bogie. "I said no and we went toward the car. My cousin started to get in. She thought it would be fun. I kicked her and whispered to her that mama said we shouldn't go away with strange men."

"Melba and Madeline and Jeanette climbed into the box on the back of the car and they drove off."

Florence Frailey, 12, told of seeing the three girls and a man she said resembled "Eddie" walking toward the park gate. Near the Everett home one girl pointed out the house to him and said:

"That's my house. That's where I live."

W. H. Emery, park attendant, saw three girls in the box of an open Ford driving up Hyde Park Avenue in the direction of the ravine where their bodies later were found. One waved at him and he waved back. He said he recognized her as one of the slain girls.

A description of the car was flashed on the California-wide police teletype system. It was:

"Model A Ford, 1929 or 1930, color unknown, but dark, no running board, no fenders, no top. Has box body on rear. Also has painted slogans or writing on sides."

Eight hundred persons surged about the Inglewood jail muttering lynch threats as half a dozen suspects—one an escaped madman—were brought in for questioning but were released.

Sparkling Film Fare Booked For Empire Fans In July

The summer season in the theater loses no interest for patrons of the Empire, judging from the program for July, announced recently by its manager, Miss Ruth Knacke.

Programs have been printed by The Democrat and are being mailed to the theater's mailing list. If your name is not on that list, you may arrange to obtain a copy of the program for each month by asking at the theater box office that a copy be mailed to you.

The first two days in August bring "those Marx boys" in "A Day at the Races," but we don't have to look so far ahead for high class entertainment.

The vivacious and charming Claudette Colbert stars in "firecrackers" a gaggle of her latest feature film, "I Met Him In Paris."

Then through the month, there will be Frederic March and Janet Gaynor in the first feature length techni-color "A Star Is Born," Marlene Dietrich and Charles Boyer in another "pretty one," the "Garden of Allah," Edward G. Robinson in "Kid Galahad," Charles Laughton in "Rembrandt" and, well, let's look at the program week by week!

The July 4 week, following "I Met Him In Paris," brings "Speed to Spare" with Charles Quigley, and a gold story, "Draegerman Courage," on July 6. Bette Davis in "Marked Woman" is the Wednesday feature and Thursday and Friday brings Robert Montgomery and Rosalind Russell in "Night Must Fall." On Saturday, "It Happened Out West" with Paul Kelly, and "The 13th Chair" are featured.

"Wings Over Honolulu," which sounds interesting, opens on Sunday, July 11 for two days and is followed on Tuesday by "The Bold Caballero," with Bob Livingston and Heather Angel. "The Garden of Allah" is the Wednesday treat with "Kid Galahad," featuring Bette Davis and Edward G. Robinson, on Thursday and Friday. Saturday, in addition to Zane Grey's "Forlorn River," there's "Pick a Star," with Laurel and Hardy.

"A Star Is Born," opens the July 18th week. Tuesday brings John Wayne in "California Straight Ahead" and, in addition, Polly Moran and Alison Skipworth in "Two Wise Maids." Charles Laughton's "Rembrandt" is Wednesday's offering with Gene Stratton Porter's story, "Michael O'Halloran" for Thursday and Friday. "Slim," with Margaret Lindsay, plus Buck Jones in "Sandflow," are on the program for Saturday.

Clark Gable and Myrna Loy open the fourth week in July on the 25th of the month with "Parnell." On Tuesday a "laugh convention" meets at "Hotel Hawley."

The Missouri Flat auditorium project will share in the receipts for Wednesday's presentation, "The Affairs of Cappy Ricks," which stars Mary Brian and Lyle Talbot. The second feature for this show is "Venus Makes Trouble," with James Dunn and Patricia Ellis.

"Call It A Day," is the Thursday and Friday feature and Saturday closes the month with Jane Withers in "Angel's Holiday" and Dick Foran in "Cherokee Strip."

James Quayle of Lakeport, Lake County, arrived Tuesday to look after his mining interests on the slope beyond River Hill.

Forest Supervisor Edwin F. Smith returned Tuesday evening from a two-day visit in the Loon Lake country.
